COTES DU RHONE

COTES DU RHONE

From humble beginnings on Rue de Perle, our wines embrace a long-standing commitment to unrivaled quality and reach beyond the ordinary for an uncompromising approach to the French joie de vivre.

APPELLATION

The Rhône region in the south of France boasts a Mediterranean climate perfect for cultivating Rhône varietals. Even in difficult years where uneven flowering can lead to uneven ripeness of fruit, the warm, dry climate of the southern Rhône still produces a big volume of high quality, good value red wine.

TASTING NOTES

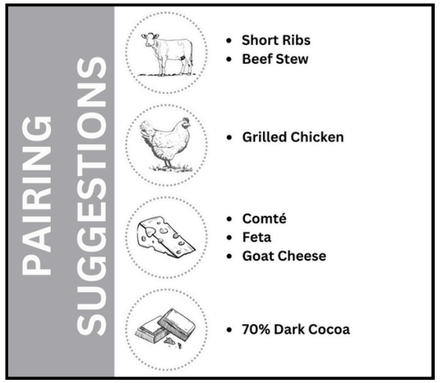

This Rhône blend reveals aromatic notes of jammy red fruits, juicy plum and Provençale herbs and finishes with dense black currant and soft peppery spice flavors.

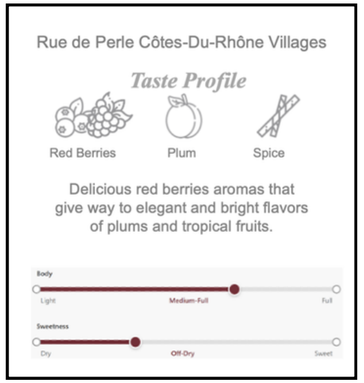

MIKE COLLIER, MASTER OF WINE

A dedicated scholar, Mike has devoted his professional life to learning everything he possibly can about wine. In 2009, he earned the highest recognition in the industry by passing the Master of Wine qualification. (There are less than 360 people in the world that have earned this prestigious title!) A native of Wales, Collier's interest in wine was sparked while studying Food Technology at the National College of Food Science and Technology at Reading University.He brings an unparalleled level of expertise and craftsmanship to the winemaking team. He has an uncanny ability for finding unique, high-quality wines and creating blends that excite consumers.
